'Your Green Future' is hosted by Global Dimension Trust (GDT), a not for profit Gloucestershire based charity which works at both local and international levels to support global learning. GDT are working with a variety of experts to organise the event.

Bob Gower is Environmental Officer for Rotary District 1100, a member of Cheltenham Sunrise Rotary Club, a Prince's Trust Mentor and a Global Dimension Trustee. Bob has developed a keen interest in the environment and started a carbon reduction action group 2 years ago.

The project has brought together a wide range of supporting organisations to organise a two-day conference on the future prospects for the green economy.

Green careers are careers that contribute substantially to preserving or restoring environmental quality. Specifically, but not exclusively, this includes jobs that help to protect ecosystems and biodiversity; reduce energy, materials, and water consumption through high efficiency strategies; de-carbonize the economy; and minimize or altogether avoid generation of all forms of waste and pollution.

'In the future, every job will be a green job, contributing to varying degrees to continuous improvement of resource efficiency.' European Union, 2010

The green economy is rapidly gathering momentum causing growing numbers of green careers to be created. All this is happening for a number of reasons and the information in this conference should help you understand some of these factors.
